Herald-Y. M. C. A. Swimming School Opens With 100 Lads.

In the opening of the Herald-Y. M. C. A. free swimming school Monday morning, 100 boys reported for their first "paddle" lesson. The pool weather did not affect these boys, because the pool at the "Y" is heated to a temperature of 80 degrees and the dressing rooms are warm and every boy was perfectly comfortable.

The swimming buttons to be awarded the boys who learn to swim 50 feet and dive from the spring board, arrived Saturday, plenty of them, so the boys are waiting for the pool to make their time in the pool.

Mr. A. L. Helm, swimming instructor at the "Y" says that the class of boys who reported this morning, which admits him to the pool, every boy should learn to swim the required distance in six lessons.

Many high school boys have entered the school to learn the art and a few employed boys have been released from work long enough to take their lessons this week.

The pool today will be just half full of water and every boy will line up along the side and be taught the strokes through a setting up system. The entire period this morning was continued to the examination and teaching of the strokes. Tomorrow the boys will strike out in the water and put into effect the strokes learned in the land drill.

Every boy must bring soap and towels every time and also his green ticket, which admits him to the pool. Some boys forgot their tickets yesterday but were passed through just this morning.

Several boys who did not get in to register on Saturday night were registered this morning and every boy was in the best of spirits as he went down for his first paddle lesson.
